

Calling all retired Police Officers! If you are finding that you miss the variety and challenges of working life, then Carefree Kids, a London based registered charity, want to hear from you.

We are seeking volunteers to work with children as therapeutic play workers - no previous experience or formal qualifications are required, just your time and dedication. All training is provided free by Carefree Kids. We have a waiting list of children who need your support and we have a particular shortage of male volunteers.

For more information, please get in touch - we're waiting to hear from you!
